About Larry Webster DC

Larry Webster DC
1937-1997

Dr. Larry Webster was a visionary, an inventor, a technique developer and a teacher when it came to chiropractic and children. He fostered an unmatched understanding of the necessity of chiropractic care for children and his natural love and ability to connect with them was felt by anyone who watched him adjust a child.

All who knew Dr. Larry, knew of his passion for teaching. He enjoyed bringing the skills and techniques he developed to other Doctors of Chiropractic so they would be better able to care for children themselves. His individual seminars expanded to a complete Pediatric Certification Program, the first of its kind in the chiropractic profession.

In the last years of his life, Dr. Webster became involved in supporting ongoing chiropractic research for children. Dr. Larry Webster founded the International Chiropractic Pediatric Association (ICPA). Today, the ICPA has over 3,000 members internationally and its Board of Directors continues to expand its mission of Research, Training and Public Education.

About ChiroFutures

ChiroFutures is a Malpractice Risk Purchasing Group (RPG) founded by chiropractors Matthew McCoy DC, MPH and Anthony Carrino DC, FICPA who were both students of Dr. Larry Webster at Life University where he taught Pediatrics in the 1980's.

ChiroFutures offers what no other malpractice provider offers: a partnership with its insureds. We believe that the future of this profession rests in the hands of the practicing chiropractor and we want our doctors to be able to focus on building a busy practice full of happy patients. We work to remove the fear, worry, and obstacles that get in the way of practice. We want to build a long term relationship and partnership with our insureds to help create an environment in your office where people feel truly cared for.

We are strong believers in research and the power it has to ensure the profession's future. It is for this reason that we strongly support research efforts such as those of the International Chiropractic Pediatric Association with our commitment and our combined resources.

Unlike others doing business in the profession, we are not in chiropractic... chiropractic is in us.

About the ICPA

The ICPA mission is to provide education, and training, and to support research on chiropractic care in pregnancy and throughout childhood because all children need chiropractic care.

The I.C.P.A. is the oldest and largest non-profit organization of its kind. Our Membership is composed of over two thousand chiropractic doctors and students around the world. These members share a common interest in the advancement of quality chiropractic care for children.

The International Chiropractic Pediatric Association is the profession's oldest, largest and most sought out chiropractic pediatric association. The ICPA was founded by Larry Webster, D.C. in 1986. His vision and passion in working with children had a major impact in redirecting the profession to care for more children. Upon his passing in 1997, the ICPA was given to the Board of Directors. For his unparalleled vision and the formation of the ICPA, we are truly grateful to Dr. Larry Webster.
